The Creed of the Cyberspace Parent

I believe in the ministry of Parenting - that my scared role is to love and persevere regardless of the opposition;

I believe in Love before Punishment, Prayer before Alarm, Understanding before Action, and Communication before Accusation;

I believe in the role of influence - that the time I spend with my child must be at least be equal to the time they spend in cyberspace;

I believe in the power of Truth, that God's Truth will prevail, and that all lies will be revealed in due time;

AND

I believe that in Patience I will reap Reward, in Perseverance I will make a Difference; in the Practice of Purity I will become the Model of what my child should be, and in Prayer I will see God act.
